User guide – overview & accounts

Who uses the system, how to sign in, and which guide to read

> Managers enter each day's figures on their phones, the system adds everything up automatically, and the GM reviews it and decides. Each role has its own guide, which shows exactly what that role sees.

The guides

Guide	For
AANDJ-Guide-1-Shop-manager.pdf	Every day after closing, and by 11pm, you report your shop's sales, expenses, operations and KPIs. It takes about 5 minutes on your phone. You only see your own shop.
AANDJ-Guide-2-GM-CEO.pdf	You see every shop and every report, approve the largest expenses, and set the rules: budgets, KPI targets, approval limits, users and the chart of accounts.

AANDJ-Guide-3-Finance-HR.pdf	You approve expenses, keep the books clean, manage staff and payroll, set budgets, close and lock each month, and export the data for the accountant.
AANDJ-Guide-4-COO.pdf	You follow operations across all shops and can enter sales, operations, KPIs and purchasing expenses for any shop, for example venue bookings or checks you carry out.
AANDJ-Guide-5-Brand-Marketing.pdf	You record ad spend and KOL fees, enter lead figures, and follow the marketing return across all shops.
AANDJ-Guide-6-Accountant.pdf	You have read-only access to the finance data for bookkeeping, and can export it.
AANDJ-Guide-7-Owner.pdf	You get the read-only group summary: how the whole group and each shop is doing this month.
